WEBSITE DISCLAIMER

Denenberg Tuffley, PLLC

Website: www.denenbergtuffley.com

Effective Date: November 5, 2026

1. General Information

The information provided on the Denenberg Tuffley, PLLC ("Denenberg Tuffley," "we," "us," or "our") website, www.denenbergtuffley.com (the "Website"), is intended for general informational purposes only.

Although we endeavor to provide accurate and current information, the materials presented on this Website should not be considered legal advice or relied upon as a substitute for consultation with qualified legal counsel.

Laws and legal procedures vary by jurisdiction and may change over time. The information presented on this Website may not reflect the most recent legal developments.

2. No Attorney-Client Relationship

Visiting this Website, reviewing its contents, submitting an online inquiry, or communicating with Denenberg Tuffley through the Website does not, by itself, establish an attorney-client relationship.

An attorney-client relationship is established only when Denenberg Tuffley has agreed to provide legal representation.

Until such a relationship has been established, visitors should not assume that the firm represents their interests or is responsible for taking any action on their behalf.

3. Confidential Information and Electronic Communications

Visitors should not submit confidential, privileged, or sensitive information through general Website contact forms or unsolicited electronic communications unless specifically requested by an attorney at Denenberg Tuffley.

Electronic communications, including email and online form submissions, may not be completely secure.

The submission of information does not automatically establish an attorney-client relationship or obligate the firm to undertake representation.

Denenberg Tuffley will handle information received from prospective and existing clients in accordance with applicable law and professional confidentiality obligations.

4. No Legal Advice

The content of this Website, including articles, case descriptions, commentary, legal developments, and other materials, is provided for general informational purposes.

Nothing on this Website should be interpreted as legal advice regarding any particular claim, dispute, insurance matter, or legal proceeding.

Visitors should seek the advice of qualified legal counsel regarding their individual circumstances before taking or refraining from taking legal action.

5. Prior Results and Case Examples

This Website may describe past legal matters, subrogation recoveries, settlements, verdicts, or other results achieved by Denenberg Tuffley attorneys.

These descriptions are provided to illustrate the firm's experience and are not intended to create an expectation or guarantee of similar results in future matters.

Past results do not guarantee future outcomes.

Every legal matter involves unique facts, circumstances, applicable laws, and potential challenges.

The outcome of any particular case cannot be predicted or guaranteed based on previously reported results.

6. Attorney Advertising

This Website may constitute attorney advertising under the laws and professional conduct rules of certain jurisdictions.

Information concerning the firm's attorneys, professional experience, and legal services is provided for informational purposes and to assist visitors in learning about Denenberg Tuffley.

Nothing on this Website is intended to constitute an improper solicitation or to offer legal services in any jurisdiction where such an offer would violate applicable laws or professional regulations.

7. Jurisdiction and Attorney Licensing

Denenberg Tuffley maintains offices in Michigan, California, and Texas and provides legal services in matters involving multiple jurisdictions.

Individual attorneys are licensed to practice law only in the jurisdictions in which they have been admitted.

The availability of legal representation in any particular jurisdiction depends on applicable licensing requirements, professional regulations, and the circumstances of the matter.

The presence of information on this Website does not imply that every attorney at Denenberg Tuffley is authorized to practice law in every jurisdiction.

Information concerning individual attorneys and their professional admissions may be available through their respective attorney profiles.

8. Accuracy and Website Availability

Denenberg Tuffley makes reasonable efforts to maintain accurate and current Website content.

However, we make no representation or warranty that all information is complete, current, error-free, or suitable for any particular purpose.

We reserve the right to modify, update, or remove Website content without prior notice.

Website availability may occasionally be interrupted due to maintenance, technical difficulties, or circumstances beyond our control.

Nothing in this section limits responsibilities that cannot be excluded under applicable law.

9. Third-Party Links

This Website may contain links to third-party websites or resources for the convenience of visitors.

Denenberg Tuffley does not control the content, security, availability, or privacy practices of external websites.

The inclusion of a third-party link does not necessarily imply endorsement, approval, or affiliation.

Visitors access third-party websites at their own discretion and should review any applicable terms and privacy policies.

10. Intellectual Property

Unless otherwise indicated, the text, graphics, logos, designs, and other original materials appearing on this Website are owned by or licensed to Denenberg Tuffley and may be protected by applicable intellectual property laws.

Website content may not be reproduced, distributed, or used for commercial purposes without prior authorization, except as permitted by law.

11. No Guarantee of Representation or Response

Submitting an inquiry or case referral through the Website does not guarantee that Denenberg Tuffley will accept the matter or provide legal representation.

The firm may decline representation for any reason permitted by applicable law, including conflicts of interest, jurisdictional limitations, or other professional considerations.

Visitors should not rely on Website communications to preserve legal deadlines, statutes of limitations, or other time-sensitive rights.

If you have an urgent legal matter, you should promptly consult qualified legal counsel.

12. Privacy

Information concerning the collection, use, and protection of personal information submitted through this Website is addressed in our separate Website Privacy Notice.

Visitors are encouraged to review that notice for additional information concerning our Website privacy practices.

13. Changes to This Disclaimer

Denenberg Tuffley reserves the right to revise this Website Disclaimer at any time.

Changes will become effective when posted on the Website, unless otherwise indicated.

We encourage visitors to review this Disclaimer periodically.
